

S. James Hughes, Jr.

Vice President of Human Resources and Safety

Jimmie Hughes has more than 30 years of experience in the area of loss prevention and control and has developed various safety programs to reduce loss in the areas of personal, vehicle and general liability. He has been with Barnhill Contracting Company for 20 years and oversees all activities of the human resources and safety departments.

Jimmie graduated from East Carolina University with a degree in Business Administration. He is actively involved in the National Safety Council, American Society of Safety Engineers, Society of Human Resources Management, Carolinas Associated General Contractors and the East Carolina Safety and Health School Board. Jimmie is currently a member of the Construction Management Advisory Board and the College of Technology and Computer Science Advancement Council.